

Part Time - Web Developer Job Description

Unique Media Design Limited is seeking to fill the key position of Part Time - Web Developer and we are looking to fill the position as soon as possible.

Our core service and product offerings include:

- IT Consultancy.
- Development of our package systems
- Web Application design and development
- Web Site design, development and hosting

About the role

Unique Media Design Limited is looking for a Part Time - Web Developer to work. We are looking for people who are interested in developing their career with us, as we develop our software team.

Successful candidates should enjoy working in a well-managed team environment; have the enthusiasm and ambition to complete projects to the highest standard and want to be part of an organization that has high quality values.

We are looking for individuals with an ambition to succeed!

Skills required

We are looking for talented developers to join our team; ability and commitment is more important than current skill set. Candidates with all levels of experiences will be considered from graduate through to Senior Developer.

- Experience of object oriented programming / modular programming (essential)
- Understanding of MVC design patterns and frameworks (essential)
- Front-end development including jQuery (desirable, not essential).
- Understanding of Ajax (desirable, not essential).
- Experience of the full software development lifecycle: from requirements gathering and functional specification authoring, to development, testing and delivery (desirable, not essential).
- Smarty templating (desirable, not essential).
- Commercial experience in Web Application development and / or software development (desirable, not essential).
- Some knowledge of the Linux command line (desirable, not essential).
- Good levels of communication. Both written and verbal
- Enthusiasm and an interest in all things technology

Salary: Commensurate with experience

Additional Information:

Applicants should reside in Jamaica and be able to work from home or in our office.

We are looking to fill this position ASAP so applicants are advised to apply promptly.